STORIES FROM THE FIELD

CONSTRUCTION OF 2ND GREENHOUSE

It has been a few years since the first shovels went into the ground on a piece of land in rural Malawi. Today, not only does Kuwala have the infrastructure, a complete water and sewer system, electricity, solar power, well-constructed buildings on a spacious campus, sixty girls attending school, five teachers and staff, a greenhouse producing vegetables and an orchard bearing fruit. How do we manage all of this halfway around the globe? Continued...

Commitment, Communication and Technology.

The answer is through technology, Zoom® calls and WhatsApp®, we can work virtually, hand in hand, side by side with our partners in Malawi. Weekly, our Canadian Board members connect with our Malawian partners, on a Sunday morning, with a seven-hour time difference, to discuss the school's progress. From construction updates, the current Covid19 pandemic situation, and the staff and students' well-being is the call's focus. Also, schedules are determined, budgets reviewed, and an overall sense of well-being and reassurance while connecting face-to-face with our partners on the ground in Malawi. Once a month, our Communication Volunteer team connects via WhatsApp with the school's Headteacher to discuss the content for the monthly newsletter. It is through these discussions that engaging stories and accomplishments are shared. Continued...

ST. PETER'S ASSEMBLY HALL

St. Peter's Assembly Hall, front corner 3/4 view.

Our Headteacher captures through photography life on the campus and sends them to our Director of Digital Presence. The pictures and videos you see every month are a result of those fantastic stories.

Our Malawian Board members meet once a quarter and feel empowered to work alongside us, make decisions, and trust to administer the programs and construction projects. They are our eyes, ears, hands and feet on the ground. We can share our story through our monthly newsletter, social media platforms, website, YouTube channel and connect with our donors and sponsors. Together, we can truly make a difference, build a better future, and change the lives and communities for generations to come.

English is the official language in Malawi. The girls speak English while at school, and the teachers have developed creative ways to expand their vocabulary. Creative writing, singing and storytelling have been exciting ways to achieve great results. The celebration of Mother's Day was an excellent opportunity for the girls to practice writing.

Matron Nancy and Teacher Grace are two of the female role models on campus. They are there to support, encourage and guide the girls during their time at school. The Mothers of the students at Kuwala are also very proud of their daughters and continuously motivate them to achieve a better life, impacting their future.

Happy mother's day

Happy mother's day,
the greatest and wonderful,
there shall never be,
happy happy.

Happy mother's day,
the route of me seeing the world,
the beautiful universe,
with twinkling flowers all over,
happy happy.

Happy mother's day,
with alot of pains,
So as I may see the great works of Kuwala,
the painfull and hardworks,
and greatest work by my donors only for me,
happy happy.

Happy mother's day,
a great chosen tool woman,
with the holy anointing spirit of God,
who shall never put off a lamp,
to break away my way
but to make sure I fulfill His words,
I mean GOD the LORD,
I say THANK YOU mum.

Nancy Nkhoma, Kuwala Matron._2021

Getting to know the staff.

Meet Nancy Nkhoma, School Matron

In her words, Nancy says, "I am the School Matron at Kuwala Christian Girls School. I am so happy to work at Kuwala and to have a job helping my fellow Malawian girls. These girls would not be able to afford education of such quality and standard offered at Kuwala. My day-to-day work activities include managing student affairs, supervising the kitchen and the food store, helping with the construction stores and working as a cashier."

Keliter has a great interest in computers and loves to read about the technology_2021

Getting to know the student.

Meet Keliter

In Keliter's own words, "Hello, I have one sister and one brother. I wanted to go to secondary school to achieve my goals of one day being a Director of a girl's school like Madam Mdyetseni. My family was so happy and proud of me, to go and continue my education. My favourite learning activity at Kuwala is computer skills, math and learning English. I also enjoy sewing and planting trees. I enjoy living on campus because I have more time for studies, discussions with my friends, and asking questions to teachers after classes. I enjoy attending storytelling sessions as it improves my listening skills and my knowledge of understanding. I also attend Church services to help me grow spiritually and correct my mistakes after hearing the preaching. I enjoy playing soccer, acting, praying and reading books."

A bold call to action

All girls at Kuwala come from extreme poverty. These girls are most at risk of pregnancy and child marriage. Our Canadian charity provides tuition for each girl in Malawi to receive a quality education in a safe environment. Our progress is working.
